Re: Contract Between King County District Court
Probation Division and Washington State Department of Corrections

Dear Judge Bridge:

As you know, effective April 21, 1998, the King County District Court Probation Division, pursuant to King County Motion No. 10371 started supervising newly sentenced King County Superior Court gross misdemeanor offenders.

In supervising the above-referenced offenders, a request that frequently comes up that is not included in the prescribed conditions of the court is the permission to leave the state for a short period of time for various reasons. Additionally, I have enclosed the Department of Corrections' policy which allows an offender to leave the state for up to 31 days on a short term basis.

Because of liability concerns, however, King County District Court does not allow its probation officers to unilaterally set any condition for supervision purposes which has not been authorized by the court. I'm, therefore, requesting that Superior Court issue an order authorizing the King County District Probation Division to allow a Superior Court gross misdemeanor offender to leave the state on a temporary basis for up to 31 days for employment, vacation or family illness purposes.

Thank you for considering this request and please call me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

William D. Cobb
